Trent View

Heirloom Collection

Our Trent View is a Victorian house four stories high with a central hallway, 6 ¼" wide and 15 ½" deep.

A nicely detailed staircase starts in this hallway and continues all the way up to the attic with landings on each floor. On the second landing not only is there a door into the right hand room but also a single French door out onto the roof terrace.

This design has a decorative entrance porch, wooden windows and mouldings to the front and left side, decorative balustrade across the front of the terrace and wooden doors through out.

All the rooms are of a substantial size approximately 12" wide by 15 ½" deep. The rooms with bay windows extend the floor depth to 19" deep.

Overall Dimensions

Width 32.5"

Depth 20.5"

Dale Lodge

Heirloom Collection

The Dale lodge is one of our oldest designs but we have recently redesigned it to make it more detailed like our other houses.

This house has a detailed half turn staircase leading from the hall up to the attic.

Six large rooms and deep bay windows to the left front the bay windows make these rooms 19" deep and 12" wide.

There are three dormer windows in the attic with detailed fascia and finials to match the entrance porch. Wooden windows and mouldings to the front and both sides, detailed porch leading to the front door and wooden doors though out.

This house also features a detailed chimney stack.

Derwent Manor Heirloom Collection

The Derwent Manor is our most popular Georgian dolls house. It is three stories high with a box bay to the left front. It has six good sized rooms and an 8" wide by 15 ½" hallway. Wooden window and mouldings to the front and both sides. And wooden doors though out.

The staircase in our Georgian houses are very different again to our Victorian houses, they are more bolder and dramatic looking. In my view it is pointless having two different periods of houses with the same features as each other. This is why we put the extra effort into making different components to what is readily available else were.

Derwent Heights Heirloom Collection

Our Derwent Heights is basically the Derwent Manor but a story taller. However it has a couple of extra details added one of which is the chimney stack. If you look at the picture closely you will see it has been recessed to look like the more ornate chimney stacks of years gone by. Of course it is now an eight room house. But with the large hallway and landings (8" wide by 15 1/2" deep) you are in effect decorating and furnishing twelve rooms.

The rooms on the left including the box bay are 17 1/2" deep, Same as with our Derwent Manor it has wooden windows and mouldings to the front and both sides. And wooden doors though out.
